PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN CANAL POINT BY PAUL RARDIN

CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Rardin's District Biggest In State

Palm Beach County Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point, believes he now represents the largest commission district in Florida. A recent alignment of commission districts gave the Glades commissioner added territory in order that future planning in the western section could be better coordinated.

Rardin, a veteran of 17 years of service on the board, told other members Tuesday that his district, everything west of 20-Mile Bend including Lake Okeechobee, has a population in excess of the population of more than 51 individual counties in Florida and a land area larger than many states in the U. S.

In commenting further on the vast size of his commissioner's district, Commissioner Rardin said: "The new area and the people in it can expect the same indefatigable effort on my part to render excellent service that has marked my 17 years as a county commissioner and two years as a State Representative. The more people and land area I have to serve, the better I like it."

Charles Sears To End Dental Study

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sears of Atlanta, Ga., are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sears of Canal Point and Mr. and Mrs. Harper Barnes of Pahokee. Their two sons came along and were part of the Christmas scene in Canal Point and Pahokee when jolly old St. Nick arrived this time.

Charles is in his final year at Emory University in Atlanta, where he is completing his education in dentistry. Since his graduation from Pahokee High School he has completed his stint with Uncle Sam in the service and upon graduation from college will be ready to hang out his shingle for the practice of dentistry.

When asked if he had selected a location in which to practice his newly earned profession, Charles said: "That's a big assignment. Choosing a location for your home and a place to raise a family is a serious proposition. My wife and I have studied several proposed locations in the southland but up until now we have made no definite decision."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas and Terri spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kelly in Ft. Pierce.

Pahokee Public Thoroughfares Committee Named By City Council

The Pahokee City Council has appointed a Public Thoroughfares Committee of Nine prominent citizens to study the proposal of four-laning a highway through the City of Pahokee. A recent tentative survey was made by the State Road Department at the request of the City Council and maps of the survey have been made available to the Council and citizens of Pahokee. It is this survey and other proposed routes for the four-laning that this Committee will study thoroughly before reporting back to the City Council at some future date. Members of the highly important committee are:

Inman W. Weeks, Chairman
(South Bay Growers)

Jimmy Moore
(Western Auto)

R. B. Simonson
(Farmer)

A. J. Gamot
(Merchant)

Olaf Boe
(Boe's Appliances)

William Plumer
(Glades Chemical Co.)

Manning I. Keen
(Standard Oil Agent)

C. E. Williams
(Everglades Ins. Co.)

Dr. E. C. Johnson
(Physician)

Board Will Choose New 1962 Chairman

The county commission set January 8 as the time for re-organization of the board and for transacting other annual meeting items called for by state statutes. The commission, customarily picks a new chairman and vice chairman at the annual meeting, to head the board for the coming year.

Ramie Road Bridge Will Cost $16,000

The county commission this week, at the suggestion of Commissioner Paul Rardin, authorized the boards engineering department to start making plans for construction of a bridge on Ramie Road which will link an old section of the road and a new strip now under construction.

Rardin told the board that the 2.5 miles now being built by funds pooled by the county and Glades land owners, is moving along on schedule.

The new bridge, over a Pahokee Drainage District canal is expected to cost about $16,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Parker were Christmas Eve guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Henderson in Pahokee.

Pahokee Objected To The Railroad

To the newcomers and those who are wondering about progress in the Everglades, this particular item will be of interest to you. More than 35 years ago when the Florida East Coast railroad built its railroad into this immediate area of the Glades farming section, there was a certain group of folks in Pahokee who objected to the railroad going through their fair city. So strong was their objection that the railroad was routed around the town of Pahokee and the nearest it got to that place was Canal Point and Pelican Lake siding located near the light plant.

Whether that handful of objectors to the coming of the railroad were honest in their opinion or whether they thought that the two rails of steel might mar the beauty of the place, it is unknown. However, the Florida East Coast railroad officials were quite generous in their designation of the depot which is located at Canal Point. On the north end of the depot is a sign reading Canal Point. On the south end of the depot is a sign reading Pahokee. We doubt there are many railroad depots in Florida or in America, for that matter, with a different town designation on each end of the structure.

Nice Fellows & Cooperative, Members Tell Each Other

Sheriff Is Asking Peel Trial Money

The county commission this week knotted its purse strings for the time being on a request that it supplement the sheriff's department budget to underwrite expenses of the Joe Peel trial.

The request came from State Attorney Phil O'Connell who pointed out that the trials of Joe Peel at Ft. Pierce and Bartow had put a drain on the sheriff's regular budget. He asked the commission to make additional funds available.

The request was turned over to the County Attorney for study, investigation and for a report back to the board on action to be taken.

M. I. Keens Beautify Area Around Office

Have you, gentle reader, been down to the south end of Lake Shore drive lately? Here in Canal Point there seems to be a quiet campaign on to beautify certain parts of our little town.

An entire block at the south end of new Lake Shore Drive includes the Standard Oil distributing center, Keen Real Estate Office, parking space for the Keen Real Estate operations, the old Mackey packing house and the Crown Ice Company. These particular spots have been beautified by Mr. and Mrs. Manning Keen, who operate Keen Real Estate office. On Christmas morning, it was a cheerful sight to the visitor who saw the beautifully blooming poinsettias, the fire-red hibiscus plants and other shrubbery that the Keens had used to dress up the spot around their real estate office and their Standard Oil distributing center.

The old Mackey packing house which the Keens are offering for sale has had a very, very attractive refurbishing. Painted corn crates were used to fill the void between the ground and the three feet of space up to the platform which in years gone by was used for unloading Glades-grown vegetables. To one who hasn't seen this particular improvement, it is pleasing to the eye.

If a few more citizens of Canal Point would take the same initiative in making their homes and surroundings a little more attractive, our little town would be a more beautiful spot in which to live.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Harrington of Canal Point had as their recent overnight guest, her sister, Mrs. Annie Mae Smith of Atlanta, Ga.

A year ago, courthouse political observers took a "tongue in cheek" attitude on predicting what reactions would crop up when two Republican commissioners joined what had been for years a Democratic board.

The observers had their answer this week and no doubt it will come as a surprise to many.

Republicans E. F. Van Kessel and Edward Bandlow and Democrats Paul Rardin and Lake Lytal exchanged some frank opinions in reviewing commission operations for the past year. Third Democrat on the Board, Ben F. Sundy was on vacation and absent from the meeting.

Said Commissioner Van Kessel: "I didn't expect the cooperation we received and I appreciate the fact that the commission operates as business men. I feel we are working together as a business unit and politics has not interfered and as far as I'm concerned, politics never shall."

Commissioner Bandlow: "I wish to endorse what Commissioner Van Kessel has said and to add that the good business ethics practiced by the commission have been a revelation to me. In my association with the board, political parties have never entered our discussions."

Commissioner Paul Rardin: "It has been a pleasure to serve with Mr. Van Kessel and Mr. Bandlow. They have been most diligent in their efforts to acquaint themselves with the county's problems."

Commissioner Lake Lytal: "I appreciate the fine cooperation we have received from these two new commissioners and I know it will continue."

The four members of the board joined in another action—an expression of appreciation to all county employees for work accomplished during the past year.

Double Funeral For Ky. Relatives

Canal Point School Principal W. W. White and Mrs. White are in Marion, Ky., this week where they were called on account of the death of her sister, Mrs. Anna Pearl Paris, and her husband, Henry G. Paris, in an automobile accident which happened on Saturday morning of last week. A double funeral was held in Second Baptist church in Marion on Tuesday of this week and burial was in nearby Mapleview Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Harrington and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Jernigan in Clewiston, Saturday.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The need for additional office space to handle activities of a fast growing official Palm Beach County family had members of the County Commission studying remodeling plans this week.

The board is studying ways to rearrange office space in the court house; remodel buildings at International Airport; add more space to the county office building on Datura St. in West Palm Beach and to add a second story to the Glades Office Building to provide court room and office space.

First project slated for action is the Datura Street building. The commission will receive bids on the work Jan. 16.

In other actions this week the commission:

Received a $16,000 check from the Florida Development Commission as final payment of matching funds for construction of the County Health Building.

Authorized the sheriff's department to lease a boat to the City of West Palm Beach for municipal harbor patrol.

Received a $1,000 check from the City of Pahokee as payment on water lines the county installed at the Glades Airport at Pahokee.

Received an invitation to attend a ground breaking ceremony for starting the next link of the Sunshine State Parkway to reach central Florida.

Extended the hours for bars on New Year's Eve setting a 5 a. m. closing with Com. Paul Rardin voting "NO"

Authorized the county engineer to meet with the State Board of Control to review plans for roads to be built for Boca Raton University.

Voted to ask the U. S. Sugar Corporation for a plot of ground for park purposes—a plot of less than one acre located adjacent to Conners Highway at Canal Point.

Water Control Is Helped By Cash

TALLAHASSEE — The Southwest Florida Water Management District has received a $14,705 advance from the State Cabinet for its second quarter operations.

The budget commission, in voting approval of the request for operations from January through March, noted the operations for the first period fell below anticipation, giving the district a carryover of nearly $6,000 for this second period.

Secretary of State Tom Adams reported the district board members want to meet with the cabinet to go over long-range plans and aims of the district.

Alfred A. McKethan, chairman of the district also submitted a report on the work accomplished to Randolph Hodges, State Board of Conservation director. McKethan stated he anticipates appointment and organization of water basin boards during the coming quarter to further the work of the district.

Sanders Children Home For Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sanders of East Main Street, Pahokee, had as their Christmas Dinner guests their three children and their families. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Wilson and three children, Gene, Jimmy and Jan of Ft. Lauderdale; Mrs. Sybil Keys and her two children, Andrea and Drew, of Miami; and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. (Mike) Sanders and son Michael of Pahokee.

As we stand at the threshold of a New Year, and fields lie dormant in the northern states, Florida agriculture is nearing the peak of production in two important categories—citrus and winter vegetables. Our acreage of many products has been expanded. Our total output for the 1961-62 season appears to be headed for new highs.

The past year has been one of continuous progress in our Sunshine State and it is gratifying to note how our agriculture has been sharing in the gains. It is gratifying, also, to note the progress we've made in the Department of Agriculture during the first 12 months of operation as a re-organized and streamlined agency of our State government.

Every phase of Department activities carried on in our nine divisions has been experiencing an increase in the work load to keep pace with the changes occurring on farm and ranch and in the many industries that serve them.

Our inspections and laboratory analyses in the enforcement of laws designed for consumer protection have been increased and their coverage extended. More laboratory space has been made available in the Mayo building at Tallahassee. Mobile laboratories have been added in the field to speed up reports on thousands of samples in various lines of food products inspections, and a sizable amount of new equipment has been placed in service to replace outworn and outmoded items.

As international tensions mounted in 1961, the Department has been co-operating closely with national Civil Defense planning to protect Florida's food supplies and its agriculture in the event of a national emergency.

Of prime importance to our farmers and ranchers is the start we have made in services to be furnished by the new Division of Marketing. As these services develop and expand, they will make available for the first time to Florida producers periodic, authentic and comprehensive information on which to base their production planning and marketing decisions.

Personnel in this Division is being increased, planning is being done to lay the groundwork for a multiplicity of marketing information bulletins, and by the time 1963 rolls around I expect to see this Division operating in high gear. I'm confident that its work will fill an important gap that has existed for a long time in the services farmers need to help them operate on a profitable basis.

Our Division of Animal Industry, formerly the Florida Livestock Board, has had a very active year, first in completing eradication of the cattle fever tick which appeared in the state again in 1960, and second in successfully preventing a threatened invasion of screw worms late this year from our neighboring states of Alabama and Georgia. Both of these programs were joint State-Federal projects.

Now the Division is about to engage in a statewide program of hog cholera eradication. This, too, will be a co-operative project with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Florida is leading the way in a national eradication effort.

In the meantime, state meat inspection has been extended to include about 180 establishments. This record number results from the reorganization law which eliminated the fee previously charged for inspection service.

In the Division of Plant Industry, formerly the Florida Plant Board, an all-time high of 5,513 nurseries were inspected, involving 12,196 acres for an acreage increase of 25 per cent over the previous year. For the first time, too, the Division achieved its goal of 3 inspections yearly for each nursery.

Co-operators in the citrus budwood program increased 55 to 23, and the Division developed a buffer zone plan to control "spreading decline" in citrus groves, caused by the burrowing nematode.

Now, I'm looking forward to another year of progress—in Florida agriculture and in the Department. A Happy New Year from all of us to all of you!

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Freedom from sin, sickness, and limitation is available to all through the power of Spirit, God. This is the encouraging message to be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Bible readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will include (Matt. 9): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill" (p. 233).

Mrs. Ida Larrimore of Pahokee is spending several weeks in Tallahassee with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larrimore and family. While in Tallahassee she has made plans to have eye surgery.

Tire Accident Results In Hurts

A rather unusual accident put W. R. (Bill) Chohick in the hospital when a tire blew off a rim and smashed into his face, resulting in very serious injuries. He was rushed to the Pahokee hospital where doctors decided he should be taken to West Palm Beach. He operates a service station in Canal Point.

Chohick had a wheel with mounted tire on his tire-changing machine, and was injecting air into the tire when it blew off the rim with terrific force and slammed into his face.

The blow smashed his nose, seriously injured his left eye and badly bruised the entire left side of his face. He was taken to the Everglades Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, West Palm Beach, for surgery.

On Wednesday, December 20, the Junior 4-H'ers of Palm Beach County (ten and eleven year old 4-H boys and girls) held their Annual Christmas Party at the Mounts Agricultural Center on Military Trail. One hundred sixty 4-H members, leaders and parents attended.

The Junior leaders, who are girls and boys 14 years old and older, planned and led the games and singing. These older boys and girls are helping younger girls in this community with their 4-H projects. They also plan and help younger 4-H members at county events such as the Christmas party.

The Junior leaders registered those attending the affair, and in general kept things moving so that all had a good time!
